

Instructions for PLOS Special Collection Submissions

Submission Guide

- ➔ Corresponding authors should include the following statement at the top of their cover letter:
'Submitted as part of the Complex Networks and their Applications conference collection'
- ➔ All manuscripts should be prepared according to the Submission Guidelines, broken out by journal below:
 - PLOS ONE
 - PLOS Complex Systems
- ➔ All Research Articles should be submitted under the Article Type: 'Research Article'.
- ➔ In PLOS ONE, Lab Protocol Articles should be submitted under the Article Type: 'Lab Protocols'.

How to Submit

1. Submissions should be made via the online submission system. Links to the submission portals for each journal are below:
 - a. PLOS Complex Systems
 - b. PLOS ONE
2. Located in the 'Additional Information' section of the submission form is a section for Collections:

PLOS Contacts

Joe Pold
Journal Development Manager
PLOS Complex Systems

Carla Pegoraro
Division Editor
PLOS ONE
cpegoraro@plos.org

Any queries during the editorial and production process should be directed to:

complexsystems@plos.org

OR

ONE@plos.org

If you are submitting to PLOS Complex Systems, you will see this:

Collections

If this submission is intended for a PLOS Collection, give the collection name.

Character Count: 0
 Limit 200 characters

If you are submitting to PLOS ONE, you will see this:

Collections and Calls for Papers

If this submission is in response to a Call for Papers or is intended for inclusion in a PLOS Collection, please enter the title of the Collection or Call here. Please also ensure the name of the Collection or Call for Papers is included in your cover letter.

If your submission is not intended for a PLOS Collection or Call for Papers, please leave this section blank.

Character Count: 0
 Limit 200 characters

Corresponding authors should enter the Collection name noted above (Complex Networks and their Applications Conference Collection) in this box. This will ensure the manuscript is correctly tracked through the system.

3. In the 'Publication Fees' section of the submission form, authors should choose the option "I have been invited to submit to a Special Collection". Read the Terms and Conditions of submitting to a PLOS Special Collection, and then complete the tick box (below).

Please note that there are no fee waivers or discounts for publishing in a PLOS collection outside of the organization's general policies. More information on fees, institutional deals, and waivers is available here.

Publication Fees

There is a publication fee associated with publication in this journal, payable upon article acceptance. The publication fees vary per article type and per journal, please visit our website for additional information on publication fees for individual journals and specific article types: <https://www.plos.org/publication-fees>

For Other Article Type submissions, the following fees apply:

- PLOS ONE Registered Report Protocol: $1,300
- PLOS ONE Registered Report: $750
- Lab Protocol: $1,100
- Study Protocol: $1,100

The publication fee for Lab Protocols and Study Protocols is $995 if submitted by 9 August 2021.

Open Access Funding Support

Institutional Account Program

Institutions participating in the PLOS Institutional Account Program administer payment for partial or full publication fees for their institutions' authors. To be eligible, authors must be a corresponding author affiliated with the institution or agency in the Institutional Account Program (fully paid or restricted).

PLOS Global Participation Initiative (Low- and Middle-Income Country Assistance)

The PLOS Global Participation Initiative (GPI) provides fee assistance to authors whose research is funded primarily (50% or more of the work contained within the article) by an institution or organization from eligible low- and middle-income countries. If the author's research funder is based in a Group 1 country, the PLOS GPI will cover the entire publication fee and there will be no charge. If the research funder's country is part of Group 2, the PLOS GPI will cover part of the publication fee and the remaining publication fee will be $500 USD.

Group 2 PLOS GPI country authors who need to request additional support should apply for PLOS Publication Fee Assistance instead of the PLOS GPI. View PLOS GPI for additional information. This is subject to eligibility review.

PLOS Publication Fee Assistance (PFA)

The PLOS Publication Fee Assistance (PFA) program is intended for authors unable to pay all or part of their publication fees and who can demonstrate financial need.

Authors must apply for PFA during article submission. Requests made during the review process or after acceptance will not be considered. Authors cannot apply for fee assistance by email or by writing to the journal editors.

Authors should exhaust all alternative funding sources before applying for PFA, including the author's or co-authors' institution, institutional library, government agencies and research funders. Funding disclosure information provided by authors will be used as part of the PFA application review.

Applications will be considered on a case-by-case basis. To apply, complete the application during the submission process below. Decisions on PFA are usually made within 10 business days. Information about an applicant's application for fee assistance will not be disclosed to journal editors or reviewers. PLOS publication decisions will continue to be based solely on editorial criteria.

View PFA for additional information.

Author confirmation

Submissions to Special Collections are by invitation only and are subject to specific terms and charges.

If you have not received and read the PLOS Collections Terms of Submissions, or have not received specific submission instructions directing you to select this option, please contact collections@plos.org before proceeding.

Papers submitted for potential inclusion in a PLOS Special Collection are not eligible for the PLOS Publication Fee Assistance (PFA) Program.

All papers that are submitted for inclusion in a Special Collection will be charged the Article Processing Charge of the relevant journal of publication plus a Collection Surcharge on publication, please visit our website for additional information on publication fees for individual journals and specific article types: <https://collections.plos.org/s/finances-for-special-collections>

You or the collection funder will receive an invoice detailing the charge and payment terms if your paper is accepted for publication.

By checking the box below, you are acknowledging that you have read and agree to the following statement:

- Answer Required: I have read and agree to the Terms of Submission to PLOS Collections.
